MESSAGE

It is a matter of great pleasure to know that the Jabalpur Management Association is organising an International Conference on “7th International Conference on Recent Research in Science, Society, Culture-Humanities, and Technology-2017 (IC-RRSSCHT-2017) on 2-4 December 2017 At Asian Institute of Technology, Bangkok (Thailand) in collaboration with South Asia Management Association. I must congratulate the organisers for selecting a very important topic for the conference.

No doubt, the present era of academic programmes at national and international levels is the era of multidisciplinary research to search and hence to enhance the quality of life of the society towards its betterment. In this context I hope, the outcomes of this international conference by the learned delegates would be a milestone for the administrators, planners, scientists and other social scientists in the areas of their works/research.

I wish all the success of this International Conference.

MESSAGE

It gives me immense pleasure to know that Jabalpur Management Association and South Asia Management Association under the aegis of Global Journal of Multidisciplinary Studies is organizing 7th International Conference on Recent Research in Science, Society, Culture-Humanities, and Technology-2017 (IC-RRSSCHT-2017) on 2-4 December 2017 At Asian Institute of Technology, Bangkok (Thailand)

I congratulate the organizers for choosing a very important and relevant theme for deliberation. The scope and role of multidisciplinary research for achievement of excellence in higher education and industry in development has been one of the most long-lasting puzzles for both development practitioners and researchers Nationally and Internationally. While several related ideas have been promulgated and experimented with, there still exists a vast scope for testing the established ones and exploration of the newer approaches and paradigms.

I extend my greetings and good wishes to the organizers for the successful event.

The Convener is happy to know that a Jabalpur Management Association is Organizing 7th International Conference on Recent Research in Science, Society, Culture-Humanities, and Technology-2017 (IC-RRSSCHT-2017) on 2-4 December 2017 at AIT Bangkok Thailand.

The role of basic sciences in the development of modern technologies is widely accepted. In advanced economies, it was abundant practical skills, based on scientific knowledge and technologies that rendered industrial output and economic growth which the world had not seen in the past. Without any doubt, behind the industrial and economic miracles were the rapid advances in basic sciences and none among them is more important than Research. Over the years, the Jabalpur Management Association & South Asia Management Association has shaped itself as one of the finest Association of excellence in Research.

I am pleased to convey the greetings and good wishes of the Convener for a successful International conference.
